This Joint Certificate of Authenticity assures that the Oligomeric ProanthoCyanidins (OPCs) contained in Proanthenols® and other products manufactured and distributed by Life Plus® International contain The Real OPCs™ as originally isolated by Professor Dr. Jack Masquelier at the University of Bordeaux, France and supplied worldwide by International Nutrition Company (INC) of Loosdrecht, Netherlands, in the USA and many other countries under INC's trademark MASQUELIER'S® Original OPCs.

Certificate of Authenticity

The 24th of February 2000 was a day of great notoriety and pride for Life Plus. On this day, Dr. Jack Masquelier personally signed the original Certificate of Authenticity thus bestowing upon Life Plus one of the greatest honors to be achieved by a wellness company.

When an inventor goes to such great lengths to recognize the sales and marketing capabilities of a company using his invention, you, the consumer, are assured of two things:

1. Product potency and standardization
2. The ongoing inventor/company commitment and relationship

To achieve such a prestigious and exclusive award, the company must show an immense commitment and desire for quality. Anyone can put a picture or signature of an inventor on a label and claim “their product is the only real product.” Rest assured that as a Life Plus Associate, not only can you produce the picture and signature of Dr. Masquelier, but you and you alone will be able to produce this coveted Certificate of Authenticity.
